

Counsel High Interest Savings Fund Series I

July 31, 2025

The fund is designed to provide investors with a high rate of monthly interest income, while preserving capital and providing liquidity, by investing primarily in high interest deposit accounts. The effective interest rate earned by unitholders may vary from the gross rate provided to the fund due to uninvested assets to facilitate unitholder transactions and expenses. The fund seeks to maintain a constant net asset value of $10 per security.

Is this portfolio right for you?

- May provide higher interest than traditional savings accounts. Currently, the gross interest rate paid to the fund is 2.77% based on the deposits held by the Fund. Q2 2025 Fund Commentary

Market Commentary

The second quarter of 2025 began with the U.S. administration's announcement of new tariffs, which led to a sharp decline in riskier assets. Investment-grade credit spreads (the difference in yield between bonds of similar maturity but different credit ratings) rose and U.S. equities fell. However, spreads subsequently fell and U.S. equities rose as tariffs were soon paused. Investors continued to watch U.S. policy announcements in an attempt to understand the administration's policy goals.

In both the U.S. and Canada, jobs markets were steady, and the anticipated increase in inflation was not realized. The Canadian federal government announced increased defence and infrastructure spending, some or all of which was expected to be deficit-financed.

Performance

At the sector level, overweight exposure to corporate bonds had a positive impact on the Fund's performance, particularly in financials. Exposure to federal bonds had a negative impact on performance as yields rose.

Portfolio Activity

Rogers Communications Inc. (3.65%, 2027/03/31) was sold in favour of increasing exposure to higher-yielding, longer-maturity bonds from the same issuer.

Outlook

In the sub-advisor's view, investors seem largely unconcerned about the uncertainty around U.S. policy action and what it might mean for Canada. That may continue, but the sub-advisor anticipates some fragility in the market. It is not certain what trade deals could be announced, in the sub-advisor's view, and what effect they could have on the U.S. and Canadian economies.

At quarter end, U.S. tariffs on Canada exempted goods compliant with the United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement. This accounts for about 85% of the trade between the two countries.

The sub-advisor believes it is likely that the Canadian and U.S. economies will continue to move in tandem. However, the sub-advisor also anticipates a convergence in bond yields between the two economies. Longer-term U.S. yields were close to 5% at quarter end. The sub-advisor will be watching to see if these move higher, as higher yields impact all riskier assets.

The sub-advisor is cautious about the valuation of corporate bonds given the uncertain tariff impact on the Canadian economy. The sub-advisor expects that high yield levels, positive funds flow and a lack of supply should keep credit spreads tight.
